PEOPLE: We dedicate this school.

LEADER: To an understanding of the basic importance of the home, neighbors, communities, nations and races; and the tolerance needed to understand and live in peace with one another

PEOPLE: We dedicate this school.

LEADER: To the acquiring of skills and appreciations in the fields of art, music and literature so that leisure hours may be enriched and personality and character developed in each individual

PEOPLE: We dedicate this school.

LEADER: To the training for citizenship that will lead to safe, clean and wholesome communities; enriched by service to and acquaintance with one's fellow man.

PEOPLE: To this we dedicate the building and pledge ourselves to cooperate with school officials in the realization of this goal.

LEADER: To the development in youth of an appreciation and understanding of the many vocations in life and the ones in which their interests and aptitudes may best be adapted

PEOPLE: We dedicate this building and offer our personal assistance and guidance.

LEADER: To realize that each student is an individual having varied degrees of ability and skills and possessed of certain moral and ethical beliefs; to present to the student complete truths but to grant him the right of acceptance or rejection, thus permitting the development of character by selection rather than through compulsion.

PEOPLE: To this end, we of the home and church will cooperate with the school in the development of the Seven Cardinal Principles of Education which are Health, Fundamental Subjects, Home and Community Living, Skills for Leisure Hours, Citizenship, Vocations and Character — and to these great principles we dedicate this school.

ALL: To the Glory of God and the Service of Man, we dedicate this school.
